CAP. XIX.

The penalty for decaying of Houses of Husbandry, or not laying of convenient Land for the maintenance of the same.

Houses of Husbandry. ITEM, the King our Soueraigne Lord, hauing a singular pleasure about all things to avoide such enormities and mischieses, as bee hurtfull and prejudiciall to the common weale of this his land and his subjects of the same, remembreth that among among all other things great inconveniences daily doe increase by desolation and pulling downe, and wilfull waste of houses and townes within this Realme, and laying to pasture lands, which customably haue beene vsed in tillage, whereby idlenesse, which is the ground and beginning of all mischiefes, daily doth encrease. For where in some townes two hundred persons were occupied and liued by their lawfull labours, now there are occupied two or three heardmen, and the residue fall into idlenesse, the husbandrie which is one of the greatest commodities of this Realme is greatly decayed, Churches destroyed, the service of God withdrawen, the bodies there buried not prayed for, the Patrons and Curates wronged, the defence of this land against our enemies outward, feebled and impaired, to the great displeasure of God, to the subversion of the pollicie and good rule of this land, if remedie be not provided: Wherefore the King our Soueraigne Lord by the aduice of the Lords spirituall and temporall, and the Commons in this said Parliament assembled, and by authority of the same, hath ordained, enacted and stablished, that no person, of what estate degree or condition that he be, that hath any house or houses, that at any time within three yeers passed, hath beene or that now is, or that hereafter shall be lette for ferme with xx. acres of land at least, or more, lying in tillage and Husbandrie, that the owner and owners of euery such house or houses and land, doe keepe sustaine and maintaine houses and buildings vpon the said ground, and land convenient and necessarie for maintaining and vphold- Tillage. ing of the saide tillage and Husbandrie. And if any such owner or owners of any such house or houses and land, take land and occupie any such house or houses, and keepe in his or their own hands, that the faid owner or owners by the faid authoritie be bound in like wife to keepe and maintaine houses and buildings vpon the saide ground and land convenient and necessarie for the maintaining and vpholding of the saide tillage and Husbandrie. And if any man doe contrary to the premisses or any of them, that then it be lawfull to the King, if any such lands or houses be holden of him immediately, or to the Lords of the Fees, if any such lands be holden of them immediately, to receive yeerely halfe the value of the issues and profits of any such lands, whereof the house or houses be not so maintained and sustained. And the same halfe deale of the issues and profits to have, holde and keepe to his or their owne vse, without any thing therefore to be payed or given, till such time as the same house or houses bee sufficiently builded or repaired againe. And that no manner of freehold be in the King, nor in any such Lord or Lords, by the taking of any such profits, of or in any such lands in no manner of forme: but onely the King and the said Lord or Lords, haue power to take, receive, and haue the said issues and profits, as is aboue saide, and therefore the King or the said Lord or Lords to haue power to distraine for the same issues and profits to be had and perceived by them, in forme aboue fayde, by authoritie of this present Acte.

Anno tricesimo primo HENRICI Ottaui.

A Ta Parliament holden at Westminster the eight and twentyeth day of April, and there continued vntill the eight and twentyeth day of Iune next following.

CAP. XIV.

An act for abolishing of diversitie of opinions in certaine Articles concerning christian religion.

WHERE the Kings most excellent majestie is by Gods law supreame head immediatly under him of this whole Church and congregation of England, intending the conferuation of the same Church and congregation in a true, sincere and vniforme doctrine of Christs religion, calling also to his blessed and most gracious remembrance, as well the great and quiet assurance, prosperous increase, and other innumerable commodities, which have ever insued, come and followed of concord, agreement and vnitie in opinions, as also the manifold perils, dangers and inconveniences, which have heretofore in many places and regions growne, sprung, and arisen, of the diversities of mindes and opinions, especially of matters of christian religion: and therefore desiring, that such an vnitie might and should be charitably established in all things touching and concerning the same, as the same so being established might chiefly be to the honour of Almighty God, the very Author and fountaine of all true vnitie and fincere concord, and consequently redound to the common-wealth of this his highnesse most noble realme, and of all his louing " subjects and other resiants and inhabitants of or in the same: hath therefore caused and commanded this his most high Court of Parliament, for fundry and many vrgent causes and considerations, to be at this time summoned, and also a synod and convocation of all the Archbishops, Bishops, and other e learned men of the Clergie of this his realme, to be in like manner affembled.

II. And forasmuch as in the said Parliament, synod and conuocation, there were certaine Articles, matters and questions proponed and set forth touching christian religion, that is to say,

The fixe Ar-

First, Whether in the most blessed Sacrament of the Altar remaineth after the consecration, the substance of Bread and Wine, or no.

Secondly, Whether it be necessary by Gods law, that all men should communicat with both kinds, or no.

Thirdly, Whether Priests, that is to say, men dedicat to God by Priesthood, may by the law of God marrie after, or no.

Fourthly, Whether vow of chastitie or widowhead, made to God aduisedly by man or woman, bee by the law of God to be observed, or no.

Fiftly

Fiftly, Whether privat masses stand with the law of God, and be to be vsed and continued in the Church and congregation of England, as things whereby good christians may and doe receive both godly consolation, and wholesome benefits, or no.

Sixtly, Whether auricular confession is necessary to be retained, continued, vsed and frequented in the Church, or no.

'III. The Kings most royall maiestie, most prudenly pondering and confidering, that by occasion of variable and fundry opinions and judgements of the faid Articles, great difcord and variance hath arisen, as well amongst the Cleargie of this his Realme, as amongst a great number of the vulgar people, his louing subjects of the tame: and being in a full hope and trust, that a full and perfect resolution of the said Articles, should make a perfect concord and vnitie generally amongst all his louing and obedient subjects, of his most excellent goodnesse not onely commanded, that the said Articles fhould deliberately, and aduisedly, by his said Archbishops. Bishops, and other learned men of his Cleargie, be debated, argued and reasoned, and their opinions therein to be underflood, declared and knowne, but also most graciously vouchfafed in his own Princely person, to descend and come vnto his said high court of Parliament and counsel, & there like a Prince of most high prudence, and no lesse learning, opened and declared many things of high learning and great knowe ledge, touching the said articles, matters & questio's for an vnity to be had in the same: Whereupo' after a great & long deliberat & aduised disputatio' & co'sultatio' had and made concerning the said Articles, aswell by the content of the Kings highnesse, as by the assent of the Lords spirituall and · Temporall, and other learned men of his Clergie in their Connecations, and by the consent of the Commons in this present parliament assembled, it was and is finally resoluted, accorded and agreed in manner and forme following, that is to fay,

First, That in the most blessed Sacrament of the Altar, by the strength sacrament, and efficacie of Christs mighty word (it being spoken by the Priest) is present really under the sorme of bread and wine, the naturall body and blood of our Sauiour Iesu Christ, conceived of the Virgin Mary: and that after the consecration there remaineth no substance of Bread or Wine, nor any other substance, but the substance of Christ, God and man.

Secondly, That the Communion in both kinds is not necessary Ad Communion. falutem by the law of God to all persons: and that it is to be beleeved and not doubted of, but that in the flesh under the forme of bread, is the very blood, and with the blood under forme of wine, is the very flesh as well apart as though they were both together.

Thirdly, That Priests, after the order of Priesthood received, Marriage.

as afore, may not marrie by the law of God.

Fourthly, That vowes of chastitie, widowhead, by man or woman Vowes. made to God aduisedly, ought to be observed by the law of God: and that that it exempteth them from other liberties of Christian people, which without that they might enjoy.

Privat masses.

Fiftly, That this is meete and necessary, that private Masses be continued and admitted in it the Kings English Church and Congregation, as whereby good Christian people, ordering themselves accordingly, do receive both godly and goodly consolations and benefits: and it is agreeable also to Gods law.

Auricular confession.

Sixtly, That auricular confession is expedient and necessary to be reteined and continued, vsed and frequented in the Church of God.

' IV. For the which most godly studie, paine and trauell of his maiestie, and determination and resolution of the premisses, his humble and obedient subjects, the Lords spirituall and temporall, and the commons in this present Parliament assembled, not onely render and give vnto his highnes their most high and hearty thanks, & thinke themselues most bound to for the long continuance of his Graces most royal estate, but also being desirous that his most godly enterprise may be well accomplished and brought to a full end and perfection, and so established, that the same might be to the honor of God, and after to the common quiet, vnitie, and concord to be had in the whole body of this realme for ever: most humbly beseechen his royal majesty, that the resolution and determination aboue written of the said Articles, may bee established and perpetually perfected by authority of this prefent Parliament:' It is therefore ordeined and enacted by the King our Souereigne Lord, the Lords spirituall and temporall, & the Commons in this present parliament assembled, and by authority of the same, That if any person or persons within this Realme of England, or any other the kings dominions, after the xii. day of Iuly next comming, by word, writing, imprinting, ciphering, or in any otherwise, doe publish, preach, teach, say, affirme, declare, dispute, argue, or hold any opinion, that in the blessed Sacrament of the Altar, vnder the forme of bread and wine (after the consecration thereof) there is not present really, the naturall body and blood of our Saviour Jesu Christ, conceined of the Virgin Mary, or that after the faid consecration there remaineth any substance of bread or wine, or any other substance but the substance of Christ, God and man: or after the time aboue said, publish, preach, teach, say, affirme, declare, dispute, argue or hold opinion, that in the flesh, vnder forme of bread is not the very blood of Christ: or that with the blood vnder the forme of Wine, is not the very flesh of Christ, aswel apart as though they were both together: or by any the meanes abouesaid, or otherwise, preach, teach, declare or affirme the said Sacrament to be of other substance than is abouefayd, or by any meanes contemne, depraue or despise the said blessed Sacrament: that then euery such person and persons so offending, their aiders, comforters, counsellers, consentors and abettors therein, being thereof convicted in forme underwritten by the authority abouefaid, shall be deemed &

CAP. XXIV.

An Act concerning the lands and goods of the hospitals of S. Iohns of Ierusalem in England and Ireland to be heereafter in the Kings hands and disposition.

HE Lords spirituall and temporall and the commons in this present Parliament assembled, having credible knowe ledge that divers and fundry the Kings subjects called Knights of the Rhodes, otherwise called knights of Saint Iohns, otherwise called Friers of the religion of Saint Iohn of Ierusalem in England, and of a like house being in Ireland, abiding in the partes of beyond the Sea, and having as well out of this Realme as out of Ireland and other the Kings dominions, ' yeerely great sums of money for maintenance of their liuings, have vnnaturally and contrary to the dutie of their allegiances, susteined and maintained the vsurped power and authoritie of the Bishop of Rome lately vsed and practised within this realme and other the Kings dominions, and have not onely adhered themselves to the saide Bishop being common enemie to the King our Soueraigne Lord, and to this his realme vntruly vpholding, acknowledging and affirming mae liciously and traiterously, the same Bishop to be supreame and chiefe head of Christs Church by Gods holy word, intending thereby to subvert and querthrow the good and godly lawes and statutes of this realme their naturall countrey, made and grounded by authority of holy Church by the most excellent wisdome, policie and goodnes of the kings majestie with the whole affent and consent of the realme, for the abolishing expulsing and vtter extincting of the said vsurped power and authoritie, but also haue defamed and sandered as well the Kings majestie as the noble men, Prelats and other the Kings true and louing Subjects of this realme, for their good and godly A a 2

II. And that it were and is much better that the possessions in this realme, and in other the Kings dominions appertaining to the said religion, should rather be imployed and spent within this realme, and in other the Kings dominions, for ' the defence and suretie of the same, then converted to & a-" mong fuch vnnaturall subjects which have declined not only from their naturall dutie of obedience, that they ought to bear vinto the King their soueraigne Lord, but also from the good · lawes and Statutes of this realme, their naturall country, daiby doing and attempting privily, and craftily all that they can to subuert the good and godly policie, in the which thanks be to God and to our most dread soueraigne Lord, this realme and all other the Kings dominions now stand in:' In consideration whereof, the said Lords spirituall and temporall, and the commons in this present Parliament assembled, most humbly beseeche the Kings most royall Majestie, that it may be enacted by his highnes and by the affent of the Lords spirituall and temporall and the commons in this present Parliament asfembled, that the corporation of the faid religion, as well within this realme, as within the Kings dominions and land of Ireland, by whatfoever name or names they bee founded, incorporated or knowne, shall be vtterly dissolued and void to all intents and purposes.
